

*I'm pro-life.
And pro-active.*

I'm not much of an activist. I'm not well-spoken, well-off or high-profile. But I am pro-life—and I've got all the tools I need to let my voice be heard. Like free oil changes for a struggling single mom. Support and encouragement for the co-worker who just found out his girlfriend's pregnant. And making each day another chance to show my customers how much life matters to God. There are countless ways to be a voice for life . . . and change a few while you're at it.

Get the tools you need to make a difference at beavoice.net

